ABOUT NNRG:
NNRG was established in the year 2009 with sole objective of providing world class technical education. From the time of its initiation, the Integrated Campus including-School of Engineering, School of Pharmacy and School of Management Sciences has been striving to scale the heights of excellence through the consistent efforts of the management headed by Sri Nalla Narasimha Reddy, Secretary and the dedicated and committed faculty. This Institute is affiliated to JNTU – Hyderabad. Approved by AICTE – New Delhi.

ABOUT DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING (ME):
Mechanical Engineering Department is a part of School of Engineering (SOE), was established in 2009, with the prime motto to offer surreal education to the aspirants. The responsibility of educating the students is dealt efficiently by our highly qualified faculty. The Faculty has phenomenal expertise in all mechanical engineering specializations, and hence, explains the concepts clearly to the students. Also, the state-of-art laboratories enable the students to participate in the practical sessions effectively. Due to the availability of advanced lab equipment, students can conduct various experiments and research activities, which can prove to be immensely useful to them. Further, the presence of CAD laboratory in the campus encourages the students to implement different concepts.

The laboratory consists of Design Software, like Pro-E, AutoCAD, etc. and Simulation Software, like ANSYS. This software can be used for a wide variety of research work and academic projects, and hence they are indispensable for the careers of the mechanical engineering students. The department also features a CNC machine, which is usually used in the industries. The idea is to impart impeccable practical training to the students in the campus itself, so that they will be ready to tackle the challenging job roles after completing the studies. And, this idea leads to astounding results. The DME has an intake of 120 seats in the B.Tech Course, and 18 seats in M.Tech with Machine Design specialization.
