The World Intellectual Property (IP) Day celebrations were held on April 26, 2024, at the NNRG School of Pharmacy (SOP). The event featured addresses from several distinguished members of the institution's leadership, emphasizing the importance of intellectual property in fostering innovation and protecting creators' rights.

Key Speakers and their Addresses

- Dr. C.V. Krishna Reddy, Director, NNRG Dr. Krishna Reddy highlighted the significance of IP in the modern world. He emphasized the role of intellectual property in encouraging innovation and economic growth. He also discussed how IP protection helps in securing the rights of creators and innovators, ensuring that they receive recognition and financial benefits for their contributions.
- Dr. Krishna Mohan Chinnal, Dean, School of Pharmacy Dr. Chinnal focused on the impact of intellectual property in the field of pharmacy. He explained how patents and trademarks contribute to the development of new drugs and medical treatments. By protecting pharmaceutical innovations, IP laws ensure that companies and researchers are incentivized to continue their groundbreaking work in the healthcare sector.
- Dr. T. Pavan Kumar, ISTE Convener, ISTE Chapter NNRG Dr. Kumar spoke about the role of the Indian Society for Technical Education (ISTE) in promoting awareness and understanding of intellectual property among students and professionals. He emphasized the importance of integrating IP education into the curriculum to prepare students for the challenges and opportunities in their respective fields.
- Dr. G. Janaradhana Raju, Dean, School of Engineering Dr. Raju addressed the importance of IP in engineering and technology. He highlighted how patents protect technological advancements and encourage continuous innovation. He also discussed the need for engineers to be aware of IP laws and regulations to safeguard their inventions and ensure their work contributes to societal progress.
- Dr. T. Ravindra Reddy, Dean, School of Management Dr. Reddy focused on the management perspective of intellectual property. He explained how effective IP management strategies can enhance a company's competitive edge and drive business growth. He also discussed the role of IP in attracting investment and fostering partnerships, ultimately contributing to the overall economic development.

The World IP Day celebrations at NNRG SOP were marked by insightful addresses from the institution's leadership, highlighting the crucial role of intellectual property in various fields. The event successfully underscored the importance of IP in promoting innovation, protecting creators' rights, and driving economic growth.
