DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

A Report on Guest Lecture on

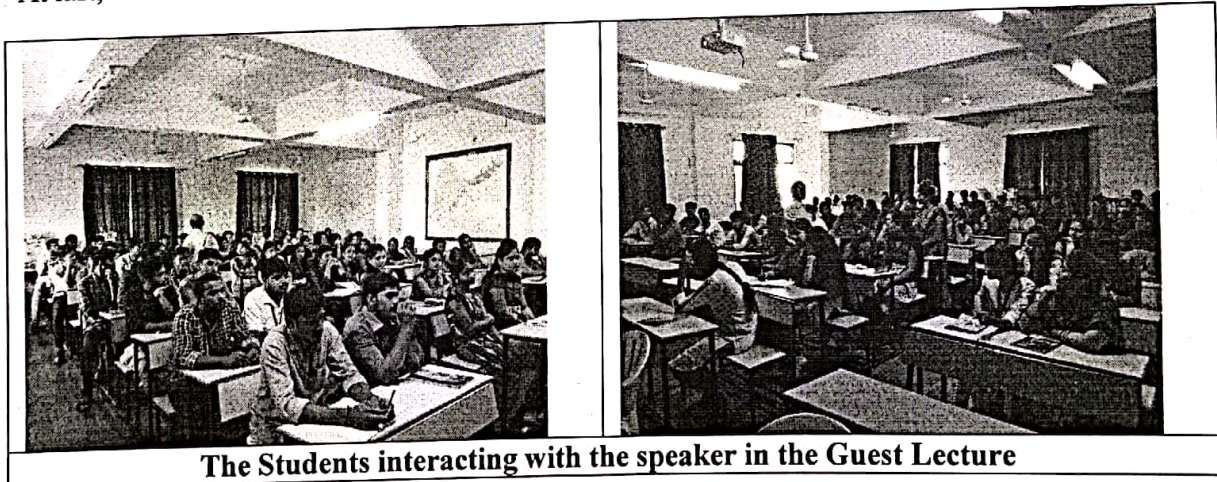

“INSIGHTS for the EXECUTION OF A PROJECT WORK”

A Guest Lecture was conducted by the Dept of Civil Engineering on 20/08/2019 by Mr Krishna Prasad from R Techno Solutions, Hyderabad on the topic “Insights for the Execution of a Project Work”. The students of IV Year are present in the lecture.

He started his lecture by explaining the importance of a major project in civil engineering. He said that from the day of graduation till you get 1st job you will be judged upon mainly 3 parameters. They are Internships that you have done, Final year project and CGPA. When you will appear in interview for higher studies or for job, there is fair chance that you will have discussion regarding the final year project. If you have taken readymade project, you will not be able to answer the questions.

Pointing to the students, he also explained that the student has to choose the project from their area of interest. The reason is that they will enjoy working on it. He told that not to take readymade project from senior or from any other source. Because when a student will work on project on his own he will be applying whatever you have learnt so far. In that process you may fail but you will learn a lot. Someone has said that choosing teammates for project is way more significant than choosing life partner. So here you will develop team building skills. He also interacted with the students and answered their queries

At last, the HoD and the faculty members thanked the Speaker for his words.
