Convener Women Cell, NNRG, Dr.Rashmi Trivedi, Welcomed all & Shown her gratitude towards Management & Director sir for their support & motivation to conduct numerous events throughout the year which encourage & inspire the Women.

Chief guest Dr. P. Sampath Kumar Sir enlightened talk on Lokmata Ahilya Bai Holkar. His powerful narration transported us back to the 18th century, allowing us to truly appreciate her remarkable life and contributions. The primary objective of the awareness program was to educate and inform about the life, legacy, and contributions of Devi Ahilyabai Holkar, a renowned queen, philanthropist, and visionary ruler of the 18th century Malwa kingdom. The program aimed to highlight her significance in Indian history, her remarkable leadership qualities, and her impact on societal welfare, especially her dedication to women's empowerment, education, and cultural preservation.

Dean school of engineering addressed the gathering & said that it is with great honor and reverence that we join together to celebrate the Tercentenary Birthday of Lokmata Devi Ahilya Bai Holkar, a visionary leader, philanthropist, and a symbol of courage, wisdom, and compassion. Her extraordinary contributions to society, especially in the fields of education, infrastructure, and social reform, continue to inspire generations.

This celebration is not only an opportunity to remember her extraordinary achievements but also to renew our dedication to the principles she upheld. Let us work together to honor her memory by striving to make a meaningful difference in our community and beyond.

Dean school of Pharmacy conveyed to all to take this occasion to renew our commitment to these principles of service, integrity, compassion, and leadership. As we move forward in our academic journeys, may we draw strength from her legacy and dedicate ourselves to making meaningful contributions to the world, just as Devi Ahilya Bai Holkar did during her time.

The program was hosted by Ms.V. Anuradha, Asst. Professor, English. Program conducted under the ABRSM Protocol, beginning with floral tributes to Goddess Saraswati and Lokmata Devi Ahilya Bai Holkar, followed by Saraswati Vandana, and concluding with Shanti Path. Vote of thanks Proposed by Dr.Tulasi, Associate Professor, SOMS.

I am extremely grateful to our Honourable Chairman NNRG Shree Nalla Narsimha Reddy Sir & Respected Director NNRG Dr. C.V.Krishna Reddy sir, for giving me this opportunity and also keeping their confidence in me as Convener of this event. I am thankful to the Dean SOE,SOP&SOMS and HODs of Various departments for their cooperation and continuous guidance for making this event successful.
