18-10-2024

NNRESGI celebrated Bathukamma the Floral festival of Telengana. Bathukamma is a vibrant floral festival celebrated primarily in Telangana, India. It typically occurs during the latter half of the monsoon season, usually in September or October, lasting for nine days. The festival honors the goddess Bathukamma, symbolizing the spirit of womanhood and fertility.

Celebrations involve women creating intricate floral arrangements using seasonal flowers, which they then immerse in water bodies. The festival is marked by traditional songs, dances, and community gatherings, reflecting the rich cultural heritage of the region. Bathukamma is not only a celebration of nature but also a time for women to bond and celebrate their strength and unity.
